Consequential Loss.

21st August,

re claim No. 1338.

Dear Sirs,

In reply to your letter of the 18th instant, I am directed by the Property Losses (Ireland) Committee, 1916, to say that your claim was most fully and carefully considered by them, and they came to the conclusion that, as the loss was an indirect one, under their terms of reference, they had no option but to reject it.

Yours faithfully,

Secretary.

No. 1338

Sir,

We duly received your letter of 10th inst. (unsigned) with reference to our claim, informing us that as the losses sustained are in the nature of consequential damages your Committee are precluded by the terms of the reference from considering the claim. This view of our claim surprises us and we regret we must resist it as we are quite unable to see in what respect our claim can be distinguished from other claims of property owners whose property was damaged or destroyed as a direct result of the Rebellion and whose claims have been admitted. We beg to ask, therefore, that your Committee will take our claim into consideration as one which properly falls within the ambit of their terms of reference.

We are, Sir,

Yours faithfully,

MEMO. Claimants had 140 Barrels Barley in process of Malting at John Plunkett & Co's Maltings, James Street, Dublin, and during the disturbances the Military took possession of Messrs Plunkett's premises, so that the latter's workmen could not attend to the Barley, with the result that it suffered so seriously as to be useless to Insured for their purposes of trade. The Barley however was not injured directly, so that the loss is not one which would be covered by an ordinary Fire Policy.
