Dear Sir,

Claim - Mrs. Ayres, 89 Summerhill.

Your favour of yesterday to hand. I dealt with this case some days ago as you will see from the accompanying report and learned that the Landlord was making claim for the damage to buildings. I send you the report herein, which I intended forwarding early next week with the other claims duly reported on. However I have two outstanding which will not be ready until about Monday or Tuesday so I think it better to send along this case as you may require same.

Yours faithfully,

Cecil Macdonald

Inspector.

Remarks

Claimant occupies the front of 89 Summerhill as dwellinghouse and Fish and Fowl Shop. The front of the building is insured by the landlord for £450 in the "Liverpool & London & Globe", but there is no damage done to this property. The Shed and Smoke-house and walls at rear have been damaged, but Claimant being only a yearly tenant is not liable for repairs, although the shed was erected by her husband without the landlord's permission. He therefore claims it as his property, and has, I understand, put forward his claim. It would appear the Sinn Feiners broke down the wall at rear to take cover in the shed, and a great portion of the woodwork of the shed was removed for firewood by looters. The tenters (which are long bars of wood with hooks on which the fish are hung during the process of curing) and casks were in the Smoke-house and were also taken for firewood. Claimant is a respectable woman, and I received independent testimony as to the probable quantity of property stolen, which enables me to estimate her loss at £25.
