Dear Sirs,

In reply to your letter of yesterday I beg to say that claims furnished to the Military Authorities or the Under Secretary have been forwarded here. A note of any other claims should be sent to me at your early convenience, and details can later be furnished when the prescribed forms have been settled on.

Yours faithfully,

Secretary.

Dublin 20th June 1916

Dear Sir,

We are acting for several persons who have claims for damage to their property arising out of the recent Rebellion. In a number of these cases we have put in claims under the Malicious Injuries Acts, and in others we have furnished our claim to the Military Authorities or the Under Secretary.

We shall be glad if you will let us know whether we should furnish you with a complete list of claims on behalf of all our clients, or if we should merely send you particulars of such claims as have not been dealt with in one of the ways above referred to.

Yours faithfully,

A. & L. Goodbody
