re Claim of Frederick Cottell

Dear Sir,

We enclose original and copy claim of our client Mr. Cottell, together with vouchers for practically all the items mentioned therein - Mr. Cottell, who is Chauffeur to Sir John Arnott, formerly resided at 113 North Strand, but owing to the bad sewerage there, a child having died, and his wife having got into bad health, he was obliged to give the house up, & went to reside with his wife's people, - having previously received permission from the "Irish Times" through Sir John Arnott, to store his furniture at their premises 4 Lower Abbey Street, where it remained until just the end of April, when the premises and their contents were burnt or destroyed during the rebellion then pending in Dublin.

We shall be glad to know when this claim is likely to be dealt so as to arrange for our clients attendance.

Yours faithfully:
