General Sir J. Maxwell
Commander in Chief

Sir I beg to say owing to the recent rebellion in Dublin the military had to remove & make use of a quantity of my goods for the purpose of making barricades which stuff I did not get back.

I made a claim for loss to the Dublin Fire &

Losses association who met in the Mansions House a copy of which I beg to enclose to you in the hope that should they overlook my claim. You may be able to do something for me as they find it great to me being only an ordinary working wood carver.

I may add that the soldiers billeted in my shop for a portion of the time

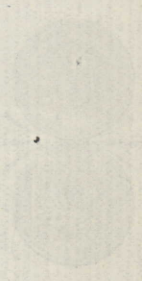

I remain yours
