Dear Madam,

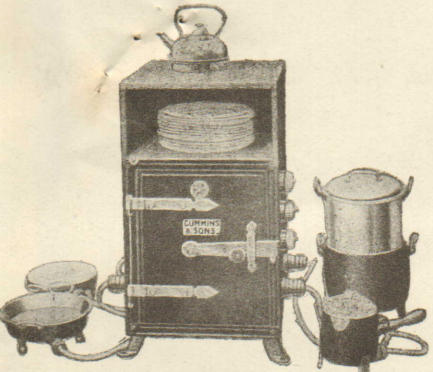

In re to your inquiry re electric light destroyed in your premises, Sackville Street, we beg to say this work was not done originally by us, and to the best recollection of our electricians the number of lamps in your premises were as follows, viz.:-

Shop Window	4	pendants	with	large	lamps	and	large	shades
Porch	2	"	"	"	"	"	"	"
Shop	12	"	"	ordinary	lamps
Office	2	"	"	"	"
Cellar	4	"	"	"	"

Also we beg to say that the ceiling in this shop was very high and the cost of supplying and erecting the electric light in these positions as it existed before would, in our opinion, be about £40:0:0 Forty

Pounds

This figure includes the increased cost of material and labour for getting the work done at the
