Dear Sir,

*Receipt sent from
JMS
27/11
Donegal 4/16*

During the period of the Rebellion last April, our premises were in the occupation of the Rebels who caused a certain amount of damage, but as this appeared to us to be hardly on a scale necessitating a claim, the matter was passed over at the time.

Since then however during the rainy weather, further damage in the form of roofing slates perforated by bullets has come to light, necessitating considerable repairs for which the Builders account has just come to hand and under the circumstances, we trust we shall be allowed to lodge a claim and shall be glad if you will kindly furnish us with the necessary form for the purpose.

Yours faithfully,

Per Pro Wm. Carter & Son.
