Re -- Claim Miss Foley, 28 Lower Abbey Street.

Dear Sir,

I am this morning informed that the Corporation Inspector has called on my client and demanded that the parapet of the above house be rebuilt, the damage is entirely due to the Rebellion, as the whole top portion of the house was burnt out, but the rebuilding of the parapet was not included in the builder's estimates, which were submitted in the original claim. Under these circumstances I shall be obliged if you will send me the necessary forms to enable my client to make a supplemental claim in respect of this damage.

Miss Foley has received a cheque in settlement of contents loss, but has received no payment as yet in respect of the damage to the building. As in this case, the damage to building was only partial, and the restoration of the building, with the exception of the parapet, has been completed, and as Miss Foley is now being asked to pay her Contractors for the work done I shall be obliged if steps could be taken to send her a cheque in respect thereof.

Yours faithfully,
Dugald Blue.
