Remarks

I have made all the necessary inquiries, in connection with this claim, and, as the result, find that the claimant overestimated the amount of remuneration to be paid by the above mentioned Publications, without having due regard for accepted "Copy," as the case might be, and I consider that £50. 11. 6 would be fair and reasonable compensation.

you. If it does not, please do not inconvenience yourself for me. I could come some other time, or could wait an hour or so tomorrow if 4-30 were too early for you. Believe me, Dear Sir,

Very faithfully yours,

Dear Sir,

Your letter just received tonight. I have to be in town tomorrow, Thursday, on business; and as I shall find it difficult to leave home again this week, I shall chance finding you at home about 4-30, if that will suit.

To the Secretary,
Rebellion Losses (Property) Committee,

Dear Sir,

I should feel so much obliged if you would kindly send me & return a Rebellion Losses (Property) Claim form. I wrote for one last Thursday (having first been sent a wrong form (A) from another office; and am very disappointed at its non-arrival. In my last note I explained in part my reasons for the delay in applying.

Thanking you in anticipation

Yours sincerely,

Nora Susan O'Mahony

Will you kindly at your earliest convenience send me a Rebellion Losses Claim form, & oblige. In explanation of the lateness of my application I should say that I was not aware until the last couple of weeks that certain important losses of mine were burnt during the Rebellion, the most important of them being at Keros. Kenneth of Abbey Street, who now dis-claims any responsibility in the matter.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Very sincerely yours

Dear Madam,

In reply to your letter of the 31st. Oct. We will let you have a decision on your M.S. at the earliest possible moment.

With regard to compensation for the loss of the other M.S. We understand the Compensation Committee would not permit property belonging to any other person ⁶ be included in our claim. Any authors who had claims to make have made them direct, and we should advise you to do the same as of course we cannot accept any liability in the matter.

Yours faithfully,

MAUNSEL & CO. LTD.
