Dear Sir,

Re Dublin General Post Office.

Third Extension Heating.

Herewith we enclose particulars of our claim in connection with materials and tools belonging to us which were missing after the destruction of the above building.

We would explain that we had a contract in course of execution for installing the Heating Apparatus in this building, and as this was not completed at the time the building was destroyed the materials and tools embodied in this claim were stored in the building.

We regret the delay in submitting these, but we might mention that we have only just been advised by the Post Office Engineering Department (to whom we sent our claim some considerable time ago) to refer this matter to you.

Yours faithfully,

THE BRIGHTSIDE FOUNDRY & ENGINEERING CO. LTD.
