Remarks

I have referred to the G. N. Rly. Co. of Ireland with regard to this claim, and they have informed me that the entire Consignment of yeast was commandeered by the military authorities for the purposes of Baking bread for soldiers consumption, at Amiens St. Station, and when they found that they had a surplus of yeast over they salvaged it to O'Rourke's City Bakery, Store St., Dublin, and received from this concern £4. 18/- therefor which was
