We are in receipt of your favour of yesterday, and now respectfully return your claim for which this Company is not responsible.

We further beg to advise you that at some time, or times, between Friday 28th April and Tuesday 2nd May, 1916, our premises were entered by persons who had tumultuously and riotously assembled, and certain goods upon our premises were wantonly and maliciously damaged and destroyed, and the 20 Cases of Golden Syrup, also 80 Boxes Clipper Peas come under the latter category.

We should like to point out that both these consignments we duly advised to you, and the 80 Boxes Peas so long ago as the 17th April.

Dear Sirs,

With reference to the 80 boxes of Clipper Peas which you had lying at the Steamship Co's Shed at the time of the Rebellion, we have now a communication from the Steamship Co., stating that the packages were covered during transit against War Risk, and their Underwriters have now agreed to settle you your claim, under the conditions of that policy, but only on the distinct understanding that you ~~we~~ will still prosecute you your claim upon the Government, if so required, through the Property Loss Irish Committee, and when a settlement from that source is obtained, the amount will be refunded to the Steamship Co., for the benefit of their Underwriters.

Will you please let us know if you are agreeable to accept payment for the 80 boxes on these conditions; and, at the same time,
