Interests in the buildings

Claim in this case is for a box of salmon which was sent from Drogheda to Dublin on 24th April last. I have been in communication with claimant and all which to the file is a letter from Messrs Henders stating that they never received the goods & that they believe the fish was disposed of by the military. I think therefore the claim is quite genuine & amount claimed is reasonable. I would therefore recommend payment of the claim in full.

Dear Sir,

re Claim No. 973 - Miss Mary Linglas

In reply to your letter of the 25th inst I have made enquiries from the Railway & am advised that the property in this case came to Dublin on Easter Monday but was not delivered. It was in common with other perishable goods disposed of by the military who were in complete control of the railway.

I return the papers herewith

Yours faithfully

Arthur Browne

My dear Madam

In reply to your favour the box of Salmon sent by you to us, was not delivered - On the Tuesday of last week our Carriers would not be allowed into the Great Northern Railway the Station being in the hands of the Military all that week. We made no claim as the sender is the party who should make the claim, the Carriage being paid at your end - We heard that the fish was disposed of by the Military but of course have had official notice of this -

Yours truly
